

Automatic sludge composter HABA COMPOSTER

Excess sludge generated in the process of biological wastewater treatment in the Bio Easy Flow biological treatment plant is pumped out to the sludge composter using a sludge pump located in the biological treatment plant and controlled by a specially adapted controller. Every few years, the processed and hygienized sludge is removed and used to fertilize plants.

